DARIAH-CH Study Day

October 20, 2023, University of Bern

Introduction and Programme

Encouraged by the success of the Study Day 2022, the DARIAH-CH consortium organizes its 2023 edition, which will take place at the University of Bern on Friday 20th of October.

This year's event has the objective to bring together members of the Swiss DH community and experts working in national and European research infrastructures, and to enable the encounter between these actors.
